Linda Thorsen Bond presents

Saving the Oldest Town in Texas

June 18, 10:00 a.m.
Sugg Community Room

Bond brings to life Daisy Wettermark, wife of the scoundrel who robbed his own bank in Nacogdoches in 1903. Daisy tells what it is like to be married to the man who betrayed her and nearly destroyed the Oldest Town in Texas.

Dr. Linda Thorsen Bond has written and produced 20 historical plays and won two national Telly Awards for a 2018 documentary about one of her plays. She has written newspaper and magazine articles for publications including Texas Highways, Texas Monthly, W, USA Today, Family Circle, Australian Woman's Day, Create!, four different Colorado magazines and more. Her historical novel, "Saving the Oldest Town in Texas," was published last November and is in its second printing.
