AAUW’s mission: Advance equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research. AAUW . . .

- supports women seeking to improve their lives and education;
- champions equal pay through research, lobbying for fair pay legislation and providing salary negotiation workshops;
- provides highly-focused programs to introduce girls to STEM fields and encourages them to pursue careers in those fields; and
- trains women to run for office in all venues while supporting them as they run.

AAUW has over 170,000 members in 1,000 local branches throughout the nation.

AAUW-Texas has over 1700 members in 33 branches. Membership in AAUW is open to women and men with an associate or higher degree or an honorary degree from qualified institutions.

Local branches have access to national materials to assist in their organization of programs such as voter registration drives, women’s health fairs, and student success initiatives.

AAUW programs include

- Research analyzing gender equity issues in education and the workplace;
- Campus Leadership helping shape the lives of the next generation of women leaders and
- Educational Funding for academic and lifelong learning opportunities for women.
